

Call for papers for participation in the 13th volume of Parabasis

The Academic Journal of the Department of Theatre Studies of the University of Athens Parabasis has the honour to call for the submission of papers for its 13th volume, either of the part 13/1 in the main European languages (English, French, German, Italian) or for the Greek part 13/2. The submitted papers must be original, not published elsewhere, not surpassing substantially 12 pages, and following the editing rules of the journal. Papers written in a different style will not be accepted for the peer review process by two anonymous reviewers. The deadline is the end of September 2014. The papers must be sent in electronic form to the editor-in-chief, Walter Puchner, to the address wpochn@theatre.uoa.gr.

This volume (in both parts) will be dedicated to the topic «Theatre and nature». Nevertheless, papers on other subjects will be accepted as well, together with short informative articles for the section Miscellanea and important unpublished theatre and drama texts for the section Texts, as well as book reviews about books on theatrological issues.
